Lana Could Lose Custody of Her Daughter at Court Hearing April 24

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Lana Turner was in danger of losing her daughter, Cheryl, today even though her performance on the witness stand won the girl a "justifiable homicide" verdict at an inquest in the knife-slaying of Johnny Stompanato.

A juvenile court must determine 14-year-old Cheryl's future at a hearing set for April 24, at which time Lana is expected to make another off-screen appearance.

Two Possible Courses

Judge Allen T. Lynch had two possible courses:

1. He could turn Cheryl over to authorities for criminal prosecution since the inquest's verdict was not an order to the court.

2. He could rule Cheryl a ward of the court and determine whether the girl should be in custody of Lana or Stephen Crane, the girl's father, or be sent to a detention home or some religious or private home for girls.

Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson said Friday night he was not in favor of prosecuting Cheryl after hearing what had been disclosed at the inquest. If he does not prosecute, Cheryl will go free and probably return to Lana.

Suggests Girls' Home

But McKesson said it was his own opinion that Cheryl would be better off in a good home for girls. He indicated he did not think she should be in the custody of Lana, her grandmother or Crane.

Crane said he hoped McKesson "doesn't really feel" that neither he nor Lana should have Cheryl, who is in the Juvenile Hall.

"There is nothing in the world I would like more than to have custody of my baby," he said. "But I don't want it to sound as if I don't think her mother should have custody. It puts me in a tough spot."

Lana In Seclusion

Asked about a possible reconciliation with Lana, Crane said: "Every time Lana has broken up with someone over the last seven years, people start talking about a reconciliation. A lot has happened since we parted."

Lana herself was secluded again in the home where Cheryl plunged a butcher knife into the stomach of her mother's lover on Good Friday.

But the blonde actress was sure to make a fight for her daughter and if it is anything like the one she made on the witness stand to exonerate Cheryl, it will be staggering.

GOLCONDA, Ill. — The Rev. Elbert Elam, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist church near here, was crushed to death at 6:30 p. m. Thursday when a tractor he was driving slipped end-over-end and landed on top of him.

The pastor, who was trying to pull a mired truck, died instantly. The accident was witnessed by his invalid wife, Ina Mae, who wheeled herself to the front porch and hailed a home bound neighbor, Milford Floyd.

It took the combined efforts of several farmers to remove the body from the wreckage. An inquest

Bloodmobile to Visit Carrier Mills, Harrisburg

The bloodmobile will be at the Carrier Mills Masonic temple Thursday, April 17, and at the Harrisburg Elks club on Friday, April 18, from 12 noon until 6 p. m.

When the bloodmobile was in Saline county in February, the people were asked to express themselves by being donors if they wanted the Red Cross chapter to remain in the blood program. The wonderful response left no doubt as to how the people felt but it must be remembered that Saline county has an obligation every day the bloodmobile is here to send 150 pints of blood back to the center, therefore 200 donors in Carrier Mills and 200 donors in Harrisburg are needed. It takes 200 donors a day to be sure of 150 pints of blood as many are rejected and asked to come back at a later date.

In February, it was necessary to ask many to come back due to the crowd. If all the former donors who did not give in February and the ones who did not keep their appointments to give blood will come in either Thursday or Friday, the two days' quota will be met.

All recruitment workers have been asked not to contact anyone who gave blood in February as many do not like to give so often. All church and organization chairmen are asked to get their lists of donors to the Red Cross office or Mrs. B. E. Montgomery, recruitment chairman, by Tuesday, April 15, so appointment cards can be mailed. Those planning to give in Carrier Mills should register with Mr. or Mrs. James Thornton, recruitment chairmen, or the Red Cross office.

Even those who do not get a chance to register as a donor, are asked to come. It will only take about one hour this time as such a large crowd is not expected. It is the hope of the Blood Program committee that from now on everyone will check his blood donor card regularly and try to give at least once or twice a year. Families of all patients receiving blood will be expected to participate in the blood program by being donors.

U.S. to Reject Russia's 'Rush' Proposal for East-West Meeting

Primary Vote Shows Powell Still Popular

Received 66.3% of Votes; Saline Backed Choisser

The continued popularity of Paul Powell, Democratic representative from the 59th district, is demonstrated in the vote he received in the Democratic primary Tuesday.

With only two or three precinct returns unreported in the eight counties in the 59th district, Rep. Powell received just a fraction of one per cent less than twice as many votes as his two opponents in the race. His percentage was 66.3 of the total.

The new totals show Powell with 35,011 votes, Leroy Welborn with 12,516 and K. Neil Thurmond with 5,261. He received 47 per cent of the total vote in Williamson county, although both the other candidates were residents of that county.

This year's general election should go a long way toward determining the possibility of electing more than one Democrat to the General Assembly from this district.

Two-Nominee Question

For the past several years, the Democratic Legislative committee has assumed that it would be best to assure at least one Democratic legislator and they have nominated only one man in the primary with Republicans determining to nominate two men.

The result was that two Republicans and one Democrat were practically automatically elected in the general election.

Due to some criticism by certain Democratic elements, the Democratic committee, at Powell's request, determined to nominate two candidates in the primary. So, two Democrats and two Republicans will fight it out for the three positions in the general election.

Republicans Edge

On the surface it would appear that the Republicans have a considerable edge, since there were 63,734 Republican legislative votes cast, while Democrats cast only 52,788.

On this basis, the Democratic vote would have to be divided equally between the two nominees, and one of the Republican candidates would have to fall far behind in order for the two Democrats to be named.

Granted there might be some Republican primary votes switched to Democrats in the general election, the possibility is still very remote. Democrats in the general election could also switch to Republican favorites.

In the primary Tuesday, Saline county was again left out in the legislative race, although Gene Choisser of Eldorado received a flattering 63 per cent of the total vote cast in his home county.

Practically complete returns in this race gave the following totals, about as previously reported by the Register:

McCormick 22,088, Mitchell 7,899, Choisser 15,814, Butler 17,933.

Illinois Man Drowns Before Son's Wedding

MANNING, S. C. (UP)—Divers today sought the body of a Bloomington, Ill., businessman believed to have drowned Friday several hours before his son's wedding. Authorities said John B. Felmeley, president of a company bearing his name, apparently fell out of his motor boat in Lake Marion. Felmeley, his wife and daughter, had come here to see their son, Lt. Jerry J. Felmeley, married to Miss Jenrose Weldon. The wedding took place in a simple ceremony at the bride's home. It was originally scheduled to be held in the Manning Presbyterian church.

To Poll Industry On Engineering Course at SIU

CHICAGO (UP)—An official study group today reported it will poll industry on a proposed engineering course at Southern Illinois University.

A subcommittee of the Illinois Commission of Higher Education said that a mail survey has about been completed seeking opinions of Illinois high schools, junior colleges and colleges offering pre-engineering courses but not degrees.

Walter E. Hanson, Springfield, subcommittee chairman, said that the returns from the schools survey had not yet been evaluated. He reported at a regular monthly commission meeting that the subcommittee would contact industry throughout the state on the proposal. Opinions will be sought through the chambers of commerce and the Illinois Manufacturers Assn., Hanson said.

The subcommittee program also calls for consultation with the American Society of Engineering Education and the Engineering Council for Professional Development, which accredits engineering schools. As a final step in the study, Hanson said that "conferences will be held with the heads of engineering schools in the state and with officials at Southern Illinois University."

Serving with Hanson on the subcommittee are Del Rutherford, president of the Mount Vernon School Board and Fred Heitmann Jr., Chicago banker. The subcommittee is part of the committee on institutional offerings. Hanson said that his group's report should be ready in time to be incorporated into the required commission report to the Legislature next year. The subcommittee work, he said, is not strictly limited to the proposal for SIU although Gov. Stratton has specifically asked that the possibility of an engineering school at Carbondale be evaluated.

Arkansas Humorist to Address Southern Illinois Dinner Club Saturday, April 19

John F. Pride, a "hillbilly" humorist from Arkansas, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Southern Illinois Dinner club Saturday, April 19, at 6:30 p. m. at the Kurto country club near Harrisburg.

Pride, who is said to offer his humor much in the manner of the late Will Rogers, draws extensively on his home surroundings for his examples and illustrations in his subject, "Think Mink," a humorous talk which has been well accepted by similar clubs.

Now semi-retired from a successful real-estate business around Little Rock and in Pride Valley in the heart of the Ozark mountains, Pride spends much of his time traveling and speaking. He is president of the Little Rock Shriners Luncheon club and also vice-president of the Southern area of 12 states of the Dale Carnegie Club, Inc.

Pride received his college education at Southeast Missouri Teachers college and taught school in both Missouri and Arkansas. He

Soviets Refuse To Go Along with Western Plans

Want Ambassadors To Set Only Time, Place of Meeting

WASHINGTON (UP)—U. S. officials said today the United States will reject Russia's latest "mad rush" proposal for an East-West summit meeting.

They said the United States intends to stand by its position that only lower level talks to decide issues would give a summit conference any chance of success.

The Russians put forward a plan Friday calling for a U. S., British, French and Russian ambassadorial meeting in Moscow next Thursday to set only the time, place and composition of a foreign ministers' meeting. The foreign ministers' session would be held no later than mid-May.

Signed By Gromyko

The note was signed by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Under the Russian proposal, the foreign ministers meeting would be followed by a summit conference, regardless of whether the foreign ministers' session was a success or failure.

The Russian plan was spelled out in response to a U. S.-British-French proposal of March 31 suggesting an ambassadorial conference in Moscow beginning in the last two weeks of April to determine whether any subsequent summit meeting would "serve a useful purpose."

The West wanted the ambassadors to discuss issues like disarmament, German reunification and the future of East European satellites to decide which subjects should be discussed at a summit conference.

Reds Won't Go Along

If the lower-level talks were successful, the West said, the four foreign ministers then could meet to prepare for the summit talks. The ministers also would determine which countries should be represented at the summit.

Russia refused to go along with this procedure. Gromyko declared it "goes without saying" that agreement to hold a summit conference could not be dependent on preliminary talks at a lower level.

The White House promptly branded the Russian counter-proposal "manifestly not an acceptance" of the Western suggestion.

Galatia Student Star Farmer of FFA Section 25

Lasley Kimmel, Galatia high school senior, has been selected Star Farmer from Section 25, Future Farmers of America and is a candidate for Star Farmer from District 5.

Kimmel received the high honor at a meeting of Section 25, which includes eight southeastern Illinois counties with twenty high school chapters of FFA, at a section meeting held Tuesday at Southern Illinois Technical Institute.

The District 5 meeting will be held next week, either at Benton or Mt. Vernon.

Kimmel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Kimmel, RFD 4, Thompsonville, has been active in the Galatia high school chapter of FFA for the past four years and a record of all his school accomplishments, plus other farm related activities, was considered in making the Star Farmer award.

Thirteen production awards — dairy, beef, swine, sheep, poultry, farm and home beautification, farm mechanics, farm safety, soil and water management, farm electrification, soybean, corn and small grain — were made at the section meeting and Lasley was picked for the award in both small grain and corn. However rules prohibit an FFA member from receiving more than two awards and when Lasley also was named Star Farmer he had to forfeit the corn award.

Sammy Abney of the Galatia FFA chapter received the poultry award.

Plaques and pins won in section, district and state contests will be presented at the state convention of Illinois Association of FFA at Springfield in June.

STAR FARMER—Lasley Kimmel, center, FFA member at the Galatia high school, has been named Star Farmer of Section 25, which includes eight southeastern Illinois counties and twenty high school FFA chapters. James Bond, vocational agriculture instructor at the Galatia high school, shows Kimmel the type of plaque he will receive at a later date as Star Farmer. DIXON SPRINGS

University of Illinois Experiment Station

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by H. A.
Cate.)

On the East St. Louis market,
Tuesday, April 1, were 64 high good and choice, 1,125-pound experimental steers from the Dixon Springs Experiment Station.

These steers had been self-fed for 130 days on a ground and mixed ration composed of 70 per cent
ear corn, 20 per cent hay and 10 per cent protein supplement. This experiment, made during the past winter, was to test the value of the common protein supplement, soybean oil meal, linseed oil meal and cottonseed oil meal. These supplements were fed singly in the ration and also in various combinations. Gains generally were more than three pounds a head daily on all steers.

Experimental Life
From birth until marketed at two years of age, the 64 steers furnished a wealth of information for the beef industry. Their complete records include birth weight, weaning weights and weaning grades.

As weaned calves, the steers were wintered on an all-hay ration, some on long hay and some on pelleted
hay. Steers on pelleted hay gained three to four times as fast as those on the long hay.

After wintering, this group of steers was grazed a full summer
on pastures containing different mixtures so that the gain-making ability of each mixture could be appraised. The gain and growing ability of each steer is part of the long record kept on the get of Station sires so that each sire may be scored in the Station's bull testing program.

Stilbestrol as implants was used on some of the 64 steers both on pasture and in the feedlot. Results of this information as it affects both gains and carcass grades will be made available to cattle growers.

Big Pasture and Roughage Users
About 725 pounds of the 1,125 pounds, or 65 per cent, were made solely on pasture and hay, the chief crop of rolling southern Illinois land. This 725 pounds represents the marketing of about 3½ acres of pasture and 1½ tons of hay,
making the total hay and pasture worth about $200 in the form of beef.

Post-Slaughter Studies
Marketing is not the end of information, as Cattle Researcher George Cmarik will study each carcass for dressing per cent and carcass grade and will get rib-eye tracings on each steer. Rib-eye tracings will let George measure and estimate the amount of lean red meat in relation to bone and fat. Since the steers are by several bulls, George can score each sire from the rib-eye measurement.
Application of this information will help the beef grower to produce meat that is more desirable and cheaper for the consumer.

Higher Yields May
Push Wheat Surplus
To Record Level
WASHINGTON (AP)—A combination of favorable weather, higher yields and larger acreage may push the wheat surplus to a record 1,041,000,000 bushels within the next 15 months.
This possibility became apparent Thursday when the Agriculture Department predicted the 1958 winter wheat crop would total 964 million bushels. This is 37 million bushels more than the Dec. 1 forecast, 36 per cent larger than the 1957 crop of 707 million bushels and 13 per cent above average.

Higher Yields May Push Wheat Surplus To Record Level

Eisenhower today proclaimed the week of July 20 as National Farm Safety Week.
He urged all farm families to join in a "continuing campaign to homes, in the fields, and on the highways."

He said rural accidents result in thousands of injuries and deaths
each year and constitute a "serious social and economic problem."

Plant 6,000 Pine Seedlings at Demonstration

CARBONDALE, Ill. — More than 6,000 pine seedlings are destined to grow into Christmas trees as a result of a tree planting demonstration on the Southern Illinois University Experimental Farms this week.

The day-long demonstration,
sponsored by the Egyptian Soil Conservation Society in cooperation with SIU, the University of Illinois agricultural extension service, and the Soil Conservation Service, showed the advantages of using mechanical tree planters in reforestation work. A four-acre, irregular hilltop alfalfa field, located between two forested areas on the SIU Grammer farm southwest of Carbondale, was selected for the demonstration.

John Hosner, SIU forester, says
the new plantings of scotch, red,
and white pines will be a Christmas tree plantation. After about three years of growth the trees will be shaped by annually shearing back the new growth. Harvesting will be possible in six or seven years.

Robert Nelson, Marion, University of Illinois extension forester,
says that one man and a tractor operator can plant 1,000 tree seedlings per hour with the machine.
This would be a good day's work
for one man and a helper planting by hand. He and Hosner demonstrated planter operation.

Seedlings were spaced approximately five feet apart in rows six feet apart. Nelson pointed out that through experience the planter operator is able to estimate the spacing according to the speed of the tractor. Spacing should be increased to about six by eight feet
for timber purposes.

Area soil conservationists, farm advisers, farmers, and students attended the demonstration.

April 18 Last Day To Certify for Acreage Reserve

Edgar V. Thompson, county ASC chairman, reminds county farmers that April 18 is the last day for completing certifications to permit
late applications for the 1958 Corn Acreage Reserve Program.

He explains "certificate requests" can be accepted only from producers who can prove they intended to sign-up during the regular sign-up period, but for some reason were prevented from doing so. One cause for some misunderstanding was the change in closing the sign-up period from March 7
to February 20.

Producers who were not aware of this change can now make application. There may be other acceptable reasons for misunderstanding
the requirements for sign-up,
and producers who feel their applications should be considered should call at the ASC Office in City Hall, Harrisburg, before April 18, Mr. Thompson stated.

Maims Lawyer's Nose

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Silvio Provenzano, 38, was convicted of maiming Thursday by a Westchester County jury and was held for sentencing. He bit off the end of his wife's lawyer's nose.

Survey Grain Storage Space For 1958 Crops

The United States Department of Agriculture is making a survey of grain storage space on farms
in Illinois and seven other Corn Belt States to help in handling the 1958 grain crops, according to J.
A. Ewing, State Agricultural Statistician. Grain and hay stocks were a record high on January 1 this year and bumper crops are possible
this season.

Most areas have abundant soil moisture which is especially favorable for winter wheat and will also be favorable for spring planted crops and early pastures. There is still plenty of hay on hand from last year which means less feeding of grain. These factors all add up to the possibility of a storage problem for the 1958 grain and soybean crops.

Plans are being made to cope with the emergency if it develops,
but information on available storage space on farms is needed to help in planning and carrying out a program. Facts are available regarding commercial and government storage facilities, but not for farm storage space. It appears that serious shortages are most likely to develop in the North Central region of the country. Therefore, the Department of Agriculture is conducting a storage survey in Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado.

Questionnaires have been mailed to representative farmers in each of these States. Another group of farmers will be interviewed in person and asked certain questions regarding the storage situation on their farms. It is hoped that all farmers selected will cooperate in this important project.

Enumerators have been appointed to interview selected farmers in several counties of their respective areas. These enumerators and their home counties are:

Carl Block, Stephenson;
Ira Reed, McHenry;
C. B. Mayfield, Sangamon;
A. M. Shutt, Sangamon;
B. J. Schumacher, Effingham;
Jess Rister, Saline.

BUTCH GETS A BUTCH—One of Barber George Wood's favorite customers is Butch, a 45-pound Boxer who looks forward to a haircut with almost as much anticipation as to a good steak. It all started when Butch accompanied George to his barbershop on Pittsburgh's north side one day. Seeing the empty chairs, the big dog leaped into one, sat down and waited for something to happen. Going along with the gag, George placed a bib around Butch's neck and proceeded to give him a trim. Now Butch shows up regularly, waits his turn and gets his trim. As customers go, George says Butch is a dream. He never complains, never talks the barber to death and never steals the latest magazines.

Stompanato's Brother Says 'Whole Truth' Has Not Been Told

WOODSTOCK, Ill. (AP)—Johnny Stompanato's brother made it clear Friday he is not satisfied the "whole truth" came out when Lana Turner testified before an inquest into the hoodlum's death.

Despite Miss Turner's story and the jury's verdict of "justifiable homicide," the brother, Carmine Stompanato, added that he had no hopes of "clearing my brother's name."

"I'm at a dead end and I can't afford to fight these people," the Woodstock barber said. "She (Miss Turner) has got more money, one of the greatest lawyers in the world, and the chief of police of Beverly Hills, Calif., working for her."

AEC to Turn Deadly 'Wastes' Into Bonanza

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has found a way to turn its nastiest liability, deadly radioactive "wastes" into a bonanza.

It is too early to appraise the dollar value of this bonanza, but there are those who believe it will soar to billions annually in years to come. It conceivably could be atomic energy's biggest boon.

By converting the radioactive waste products of atomic fission into powerful tools for medicine, industry, and research, the commission simultaneously has found a safe way of "disposing" of some of the dangerous materials which until now were considered obstacles to development of a big-scale atomic power industry.

The commission disclosed this milestone of the atomic era Friday in an announcement composed as though designed for publication, if at all, in the back pages of news papers.

The immediate news in the announcement was that the commission has cut the price of five once-searce radioactive elements to less than 10 per cent of what they had cost the day before.

The more significant news was that a new plant built at Oak Ridge, Tenn., for transformation of once-wasted fission products into precious materials will start operating this summer.

He will deliver it Thursday at a Washington luncheon of U. S. and foreign newspaper editors. The speech will be broadcast over nationwide radio and television networks.

The main purpose of the President's week end here was golf and relaxation.

Article by Fred Flannell Gives Prognostications by Electronic Brain

"Is a Machine Smarter than Joe DiMaggio?" is the title of a feature article in the This Week magazine section found in some Sunday newspapers tomorrow. Fred Flannell, formerly of Carrier Mills, helped prepare the article.

The article gives a preview of things to come next fall by announcing the results of both baseball pennant races before those races begin. The 1958 won-lost record for each team in both leagues will be listed.

The prognostications were not made by Joe DiMaggio but by a Royal McBee LG-30 electronic brain. Electronic brains are reputed to be only high speed morons and require detailed human instructions.

These instructions to the electronic computer and other technical assistance in preparing the RAMSGATE, England (AP)—A coroner's jury Friday returned a verdict of "accidental death" in the case of a family of four Britons killed by a U. S. jet plane that overshoot a runway. The U. S. Air Force T-33 trainer rammed the victims' car Wednesday.

Calculated Now

Scientists used to measure the height of a mountain by barometer readings, or by noting the boiling point of water, as they climbed toward the top. Today, measurements are established by calculations in trigonometry.

Matter of FACT

By a decree of King Maximilian Joseph I, in the 18th century, all Passion plays were forbidden in Bavaria. Only one village, Oberammergau, escaped the ban. In 1633 the village had a dreadful plague. The inhabitants vowed to present a Passion play every 10 years if the plague would cease. The Oberammergau Passion play each 10 years has become a world-famous event.

Paul McKinnis...

wishes to thank the people of Saline County for their active support of his campaign for County Superintendent of Schools.

A great number of you voted for me in the Primary Election last Tuesday. Many more that could not participate in my primary spoke kindly of my candidacy for the important office of State Representative.

To all of you I am deeply grateful.

I wish it were humanly possible for me to see you and personally express my thanks and tell you that you have made me proud, even in defeat, through the realization that as friends and neighbors you stood loyal and steadfast all the way.

Sincerely,

Eugene Choisser

Citizens of Saline County:

Words cannot adequately express my sincere appreciation for your support in Tuesday's primary election. I shall try to see each one of you personally before the election this fall to enlist your continued support of my campaign.

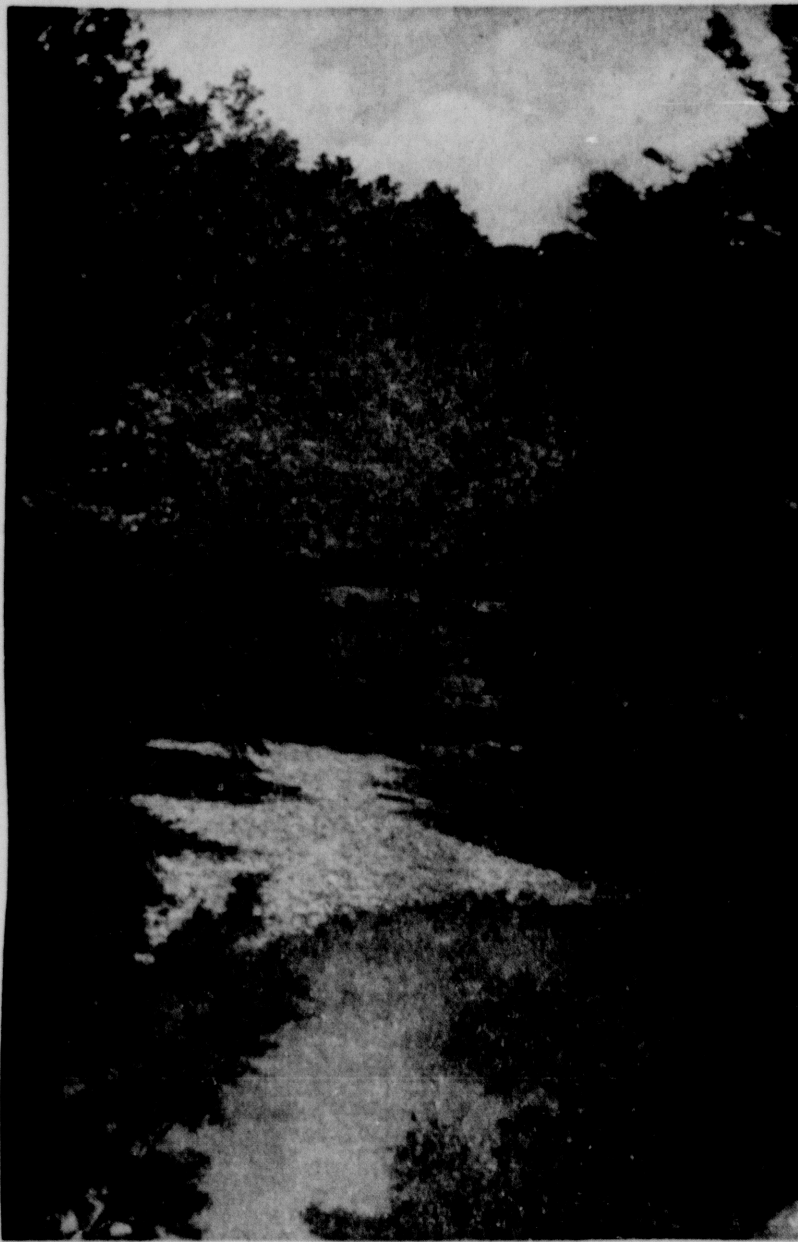

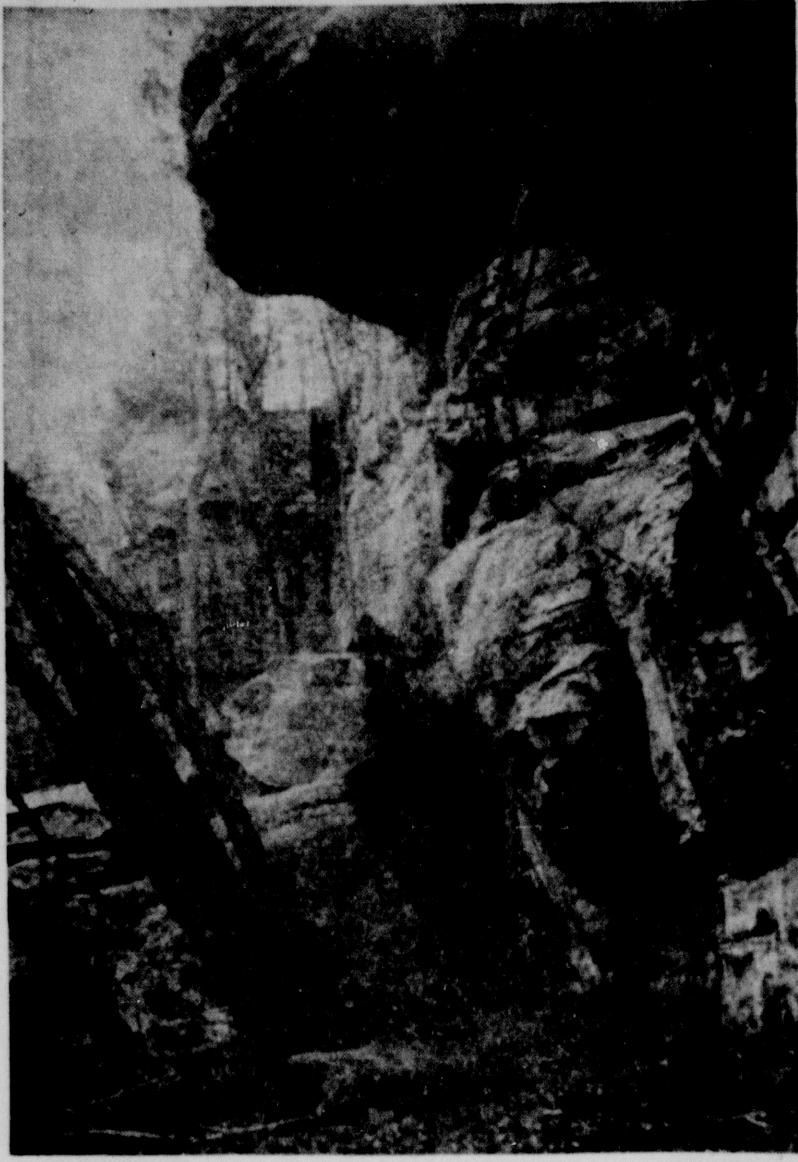

Thanks from the bottom of my heart.

Sincerely,

EWELL WINKLEMAN

Republican Nominee
for County Clerk

Visit Scenic Recreation Areas This Spring

WITH THE pleasant spring weather comes an opportunity for residents of this area to visit the scenic recreation places nearby. Among those close to Harrisburg and one of the favorite picnic places is Bell Smith Springs and other places near McCormick. LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT
by ED LACY

XIX

I walked downstairs to the tenth floor and looked around. There were 14 offices on the floor but fortunately a big rug outfit took up six floors. I narrowed it down to three offices, two of them without names on the doors, and one with Data Inc. in small black letters.

I walked into Data Inc. ready to give them a yarn if I was wrong.

It was narrow with a desk, phone, typewriter and two tile cabinets as you entered. Then it opened into two cubbyhole offices.

Bully was hanging up the receiver and he stood up as he asked "What you want, boy?"

I spread my feet as he stepped toward me, met him with a perfect left hook above his belt buckle. He let out a gasping, hissing scream as he slid to the floor. A wiry character came out of his office on the run, coat off. He led a sucker right; it was a feint and his left banged the side of my face. I blocked another right and kicked him on the knee. He cursed, limped back till he hit a chair, sat down, rubbing his leg.

The side of my face was numb and when I took my hand away it had blood—He was wearing a heavy ring. Fatso was still moaning on the floor. Wiry gave me a hard look, said, "You're in trouble, kid, I'm a detective."

"What trouble? I come in and before I can open my yap this lump starts pushing and swinging on me."

Wiry reached for his back pocket. It looked too flat for a gun or knife but I told him, "Take it slow or you'll be on the floor too."

He got out a wallet, flashed one of these good private dick badges the state gives you with your license. He stood up, painfully, still rubbing his knee with his long left hand. "I said trouble. You'd better come up with a good story and fast."

"Maybe working my way through reform school. Put that hunk of gold plate away before you scratch yourself. I have a real one." I pushed my coat back so he could see my badge on my belt, and part of my shoulder holster.

Fatty stopped moaning and stared up at him and then over at his chum, whose expression could best be called thoughtful. He said, "My name is Frank Flatts. I'm a licensed and bonded private investigator. I'm asking you to identify yourself."

"Detective David Wintno, 201st Squad. Tell him to get up slowly and behave himself."

"I'd like to see your badge again."

I held my coat open and he copied down my number on a phone pad, along with my name. "I'm within my legal right asking for identification," Flatts said. "You certainly are within your legal rights. And deliberately jostling a person might be within your rights too—except it's breaking the Penal Law."

Flatts grinned, maybe he was relieved. "So that's it. Come into my office and let's talk about this."

"Your office is too small for the three of us to be comfortable. Talk here."

"Have a seat."

"Why not? Let's keep things on a polite level," I told him, sounding like one of last night's bridge players. I sat on the stool and Flatts found a chair. I wiped my cheek with a handkerchief. It wasn't much of a cut but still bleeding.

Fatty found a chair. Flatts said, "Sorry I bruised you, Wintno, but you came busting into my office and—"

"My story is I was pushed before I had a chance to say a word. Baldy is good at pushing."

"This is my associate, Mr. Tasman. I think we should get down to cases, I have a busy afternoon ahead of me."

"More women to jostle?"

"Perhaps you don't realize it, few people do, but the modern private investigator is a long way removed from the popular version of the private eye, or even from the old-time investigator. We are a business service."

"What are you trying to sell me, Flatts?"

"Simply that striking you was the first time I've hit anybody since I was a college student. And the first time I've been hit—or rather kicked. I want you to clearly understand you're dealing with respectable businessmen not goons."

"That was some very respectable rough-shadowing you did out there?"

"SECTION 7228 of the Penal Law was passed against pick pockets and specifically defines jostling as a crime only if it is done for the purpose of picking a pocket or purse. As for the young lady, we never saw her before she walked into me."

"You've been annoying her on the phone, making inquiries at her apartment house, and pushing her around on the street. I know about the articles she's writing and the companies that hired you."

Flatts gave me a cool smile. "I haven't the smallest idea of what you're talking about. Making inquiries is not breaking any law. And I doubt if you can prove any of your other allegations. There's one more point I didn't reach in my lecture. I couldn't operate in my business without a lot of connections. I'm not threatening you, understand, but you do look very young to be a detective. But in a uniform, pounding a beat, and say you would look far more natural. Now I'm asking you are you here to arrest me?"

'God's People in Bondage'

Exodus 1:7-22
GOLDEN TEXT: "The Lord is on my side; I will not fear, what can man do unto me?" (Psalm 118:6)

INTRODUCTION — We come
now to study a series of lessons about the people of Israel. Say what you will, the world's history has revolved about the Hebrew
people throughout all of history, and present history is being made around them. Why is this? Because they are God's chosen people.

God chose these people so that through them all nations might be blessed. Through them God prepared and gave the world the Old Testament scriptures.
Through them the Messiah (Jesus Christ) came to earth. Through the witness of the Hebrew nation
God wanted to bless every nation.
The Hebrews failed in this latter desire of God, and they have suffered for their sin. Just because one is chosen of God, that does not exempt him from the chast-izing rod of God. God still punished His own for disobedience.

If the Hebrews had accepted
God's son (Jesus) as the Messiah, they would have been proclaiming the gospel (good news)
message during these past 1950 years. They "rejected Him," and God turned to the Gentiles to become His witness. More and more Jews are becoming followers of Christ each year.

I GOD BLESSED HIS PEOPLE
(V. 7-10)

We begin this study with the family of Jacob. You will remember that Joseph has been down in Egypt, and he called his father and brothers into the land of Goshen, Egypt. Because they were faithful to God, He blessed them in every way. Now they have become God's "mighty minority" in the land of Egypt.

Now, the Pharaoh who knew and loved Joseph is dead, and a new Pharaoh, "who knew not God," is on Egypt's throne. He is suspicious of these Israelites. Not knowing God, this new Pharaoh and his leaders did not pray and find God's leadership. It is always best for the leaders of any nation to see God's will before embarking upon any task.

II BRUTAL PERSECUTION

(V. 11-17)

Please note the cruel way which Pharaoh treated the Hebrews. In order to destroy the manhood of the Hebrews, he subjected them to the very hardest of labor. He made them work long, grueling hours. However, note, also, that God was taking a hand in the matter. The harder Pharaoh compelled them to work, the more the Hebrews multiplied.
Pharaoh could not understand it.
He then went to the midwives of the Hebrews. He told them that from now on when a Hebrew mother gave birth to a baby if it were a boy baby, she should kill it. Those midwives feared God more than they did Pharaoh.
Therefore, they refused to do Pharaoh's bidding. Oh! that Christian people today would fear
God more than public opinion!

III GOD BLESSED FAITH- FULNESS (V. 18-22)

It was really something for these midwives to refuse to obey the command of Pharaoh. It could easily have meant death to them.

We should always remember that God is interested in all things that happen to individuals and nations. He will bless those who remain faithful to Him.

When Pharaoh asked the midwives why they had not slain the boy babies, they replied that the Hebrew women were not as the Egyptian women. "They are lively, and are delivered ere the midwives come in unto them."

God blessed those midwives and caused houses to be built for
them.

CONCLUSION — At the time
all this was happening, the Hebrew people were in bondage. They were slaves down in Egypt. They were suffering hardships the like
of which we cannot imagine.

Blossoms prove that winter has given place to spring; fruit, vegetables and grain prove that harvest is at hand—all are miracles. We see them so often we take them for granted, and we forget
there are other miracles, just as beautiful,
just as significant, just as unfailing.

The Church, bringing human lives into contact with God, produces miracles every day. Rough, actually evil people become powers for good. As winter changes into spring, so cold, barren nature blossoms
and brings forth good fruit.

God depends on our help to cultivate the soil and care for the seed. Similarly,
He looks to us to help bring the message of the Church, the message of salvation to others. He invites each of us to become part of His great miracle-working program.

Why not begin NOW? Become a part of the Church and its great work. Your own life will be enriched, your happiness increased, because you are a partner in performing miracles.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

God had not forgotten them. He never forgets His own. Sometimes He permits hardships, sorrows and providences to enter the lives of His people. Those who remain faithful to Him come out refined and blessed. They are ready to be a real blessing to others who are going through the "Refiner's fire." God places His people on the "potter's wheel" once in a while to remold their

Don Drysdale Selected Top Hurler for '58

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Drysdale, a 21-year-old fireballer with temper to match, was picked today by the United Press baseball committee to be the National League's outstanding pitcher of 1958.

Passing over World Series hero Lew Burdette and 21-game winner Warren Spahn of the world champion Milwaukee Braves, the writers gave Drysdale a tremendous vote of confidence by giving him twice as many votes as his closest competitor.

Drysdale, who is due to pitch the season's opening game for the Los Angeles Dodgers, was named by 18 of the 50 writers who make up the U. P. committee. All 50 writers, three from each of the 16 major league teams plus the United Press' Leo H. Petersen and Milton Richman have spent the past six weeks covering the spring training camps.

Looms as Game Great

After talking to managers, players and other experts, they brought back the word the handsome 6-foot-6, 200-pounder is about to blossom into one of the game's great stars. A native of Van Nuys, Calif., Drysdale had a 17-9 won-loss record last season and compiled a 2.69 earned run average that was topped only by teammate Johnny Podres' 2.66 mark.

The son of Dodger scout Scott Drysdale, Don already has made one of the most spectacular rises in his team's history.

He was signed on June 19, 1954, after pitching 10 games for a Los Angeles high school. Only 43 games later—15 with Bakersfield in the California League and 28 with Montreal in the International League—he signed a Dodger contract.

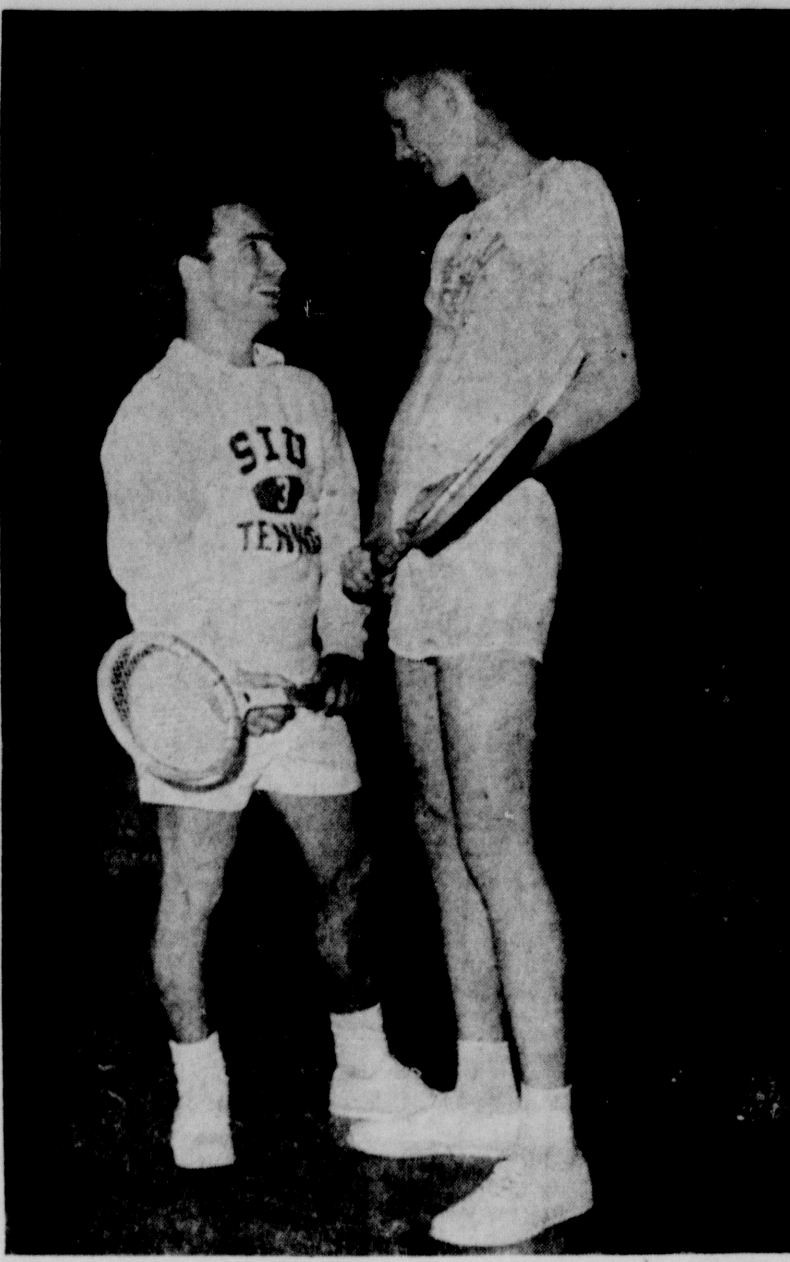

Nine Votes for Burdette

Burdette, who won 17 games last season and then beat the New York Yankees three times in the World Series, received nine votes from the 50-man committee.

Spahn, the Braves' 36-year-old southpaw star, was next with eight while Jack Sanford, a 19-game winner in his rookie season with the Philadelphia Phillies, got four votes.

Johnny Antonelli of the San Francisco Giants, who had a 12-18 "off-year" in 1957, was next with three votes; Podres and Milwaukee's Bob Buhl had two each and St. Louis' Larry Jackson, Los Angeles' Don Newcombe and Milwaukee's Bob Rush one each.

One expert tabbed Drysdale and Burdette to share top honors.

"YOU GET THE LOW ONES, I'LL GET THE HIGH ONES"
may very well be the conversation of Southern Illinois University tennis players Arnie Cabrera, left, Santurce, Puerto Rico, and captain Jim Jarrett, Decatur. Jarrett towers 6'3 while Cabrera stretches to reach 5'5. These two will be in action at SIU hosts Eastern Illinois, Interstate Conference co-champion last year, Tuesday afternoon.

Looking at Sports

By BILL MELTON

The Eldorado high school is fielding a baseball team this spring, first in the school's history. Coach Al Adams is rather pessimistic about the prospects and declared recently "unless our hitting improves one ball will last all season."

Adams was the first casualty of the baseball season, receiving a hard blow on the right ankle. "It was a thrown ball, not a batted ball," he quickly added.

The opening game for Eldorado will be at Harrisburg Tuesday.

Archie Dees, All-American basketball player at the University of Indiana, is scheduled to display his talents before home town fans at Mt. Carmel tonight.

Dees and other seniors from this year's Indiana team are listed to meet a strong independent team.

Dees played two years of outstanding basketball at Mt. Carmel high school before going on to become a Big Ten star at Indiana. Prior to going to Mt. Carmel Dees played grade school and two years of high school ball in Grayville.

The first big track meet of the season is being held today—twenty-five schools are at Hurst for the annual Mineral Area meet.

In early meets some good marks have been set.

The Franklin county meet was held Tuesday with West Frankfort taking top honors. In this meet Ted Farmer of Valier hurled the discus 150-5, only two inches short of the winning throw in last year's district meet.

Another fine performance was Cordell Cairel of Benton in the low hurdles with a time of 20.6, close to district winning time in 1957.

Two unusually good performances were recorded in the three-way meet at McLeansboro when Bill Yates of Harrisburg was timed at 23.0 in the 220-yard dash and last year's district-winning time was 23.5 and Harrisburg's 880-yard varsity relay team covered the distance in 1:38. The district record, set in 1932 and equalled in 1935 is 1:34.

Newspapers throughout the state have printed stories to the effect that "Chuck" Hunsinger has been or will be hired as football coach at the Harrisburg

Skowron Leads Yankees to 14-2 Win Over Richmond; Banks Paces Cubs, 5 to 3

By United Press
If they handed out most valuable player awards for the spring training period, Bill Skowron of the Yankees and Ernie Banks of the Cubs would walk off with the plaques hands down.

Some players, realizing that spring training performances don't count, merely go through the motions, but Skowron and Banks are ripping enemy pitchers as if a World Series share is at stake.

Skowron, whose three-run homer helped the Yankees to a 14-2 victory over their Richmond farm hands Friday, has collected 33 hits in 76 times up this spring for a sizzling .434 average. He leads the Yanks with 11 homers and 36 runs batted in.

Banks Beats Dodgers

Banks has been equally hot for the Cubs. His 11th inning homer beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 5-3, Friday and raised his spring total to 14 homers and 42 runs.

SIU Golfers Defeat Eastern

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Max McDonald's 3-over-par 75 shooting led Southern Illinois University to a 177 golf victory over Eastern Friday.

Second best score was a 78 banded by Dick Foulk. Eastern and its Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference rival meet again today.

batted in. Banks connected for his circuit off Carl Erskine after Duke Snider homered to tie the score at 3-all in the top of the 11th. Banks' blow sent the Dodgers down to their fifth straight defeat.

But if the Dodgers think they have troubles, they ought to confer with the Detroit Tigers, who dropped their seventh game in a row at Denver, Colo. The world champion Milwaukee Braves pounded Detroit ace Jim Bunning for seven runs in the first three innings and then romped to a 14-6 triumph.

Hit Three-Run Homers

Harry Hanebrink hit a three-run homer for the Braves as did Felix Mantilla. Eddie Mathews homered with the bases empty.

A brilliant eight-inning pitching performance by right-hander Dick Donovan led the Chicago White Sox to a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals at Omaha, Neb. Donovan gave up five hits and one run, a homer by Stan Musial.

Rookie outfielder Don Taussig's 10th inning single scored Whitey Lockman with the run that gave the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians at Tulsa, Okla. Gary Geiger got the only extra base hit of the game when he homered in the eighth inning.

Williams Gets Single

Ted Williams, appearing in a pinch hitting role, got his first hit of the spring—a single—as the Boston Red Sox defeated their Raleigh, N. C., farm hands of the Carolina League, 6-0.

Rain cancelled exhibition games between Cincinnati and Baltimore at Baltimore, Md., and Kansas City and Oklahoma City at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Busso Wins Lopsided Decision From Boardman

BOSTON (AP)—Tough Johnny Busso looked for bigger game today after proving to 620 ringside fans and a national television audience that his win over one-time lightweight contender Larry Boardman 10 months ago, was no fluke.

Busso, 23, of Astoria, N. Y., sent Boardman to the deck seven times at ancient Mechanics Building Friday night before stopping the Marlboro, Conn., lad at 2:59 of the ninth in a scheduled 10 rounder.

Busso took a lopsided decision win from Boardman last June 28. He was subbing Friday night for Gale Kerwin, who withdrew several weeks ago.

The 10th-ranked Busso was down for a four-count himself in the sixth but dealt the 22-year old Boardman a terrific licking before and after.

The great Johnstown flood of 1889 cost 2,200 lives and an estimated ten million dollars in property damage.
